

Denmark is getting a new

Digital Post

Now you can read Digital Post from public authorities on multiple platforms

Multiple points of access to Digital Post

You now have four points of access to Digital Post from public authorities.

Get Digital Post on your mobile phone

The app can be downloaded in App Store and Google Play.

As a new feature, there will also be launched an app that allows you to read mails from public authorities. The app is called Digital Post. The new app provides everyone who can use their private NemID to log in on behalf of the business with easy access to important messages from public authorities.

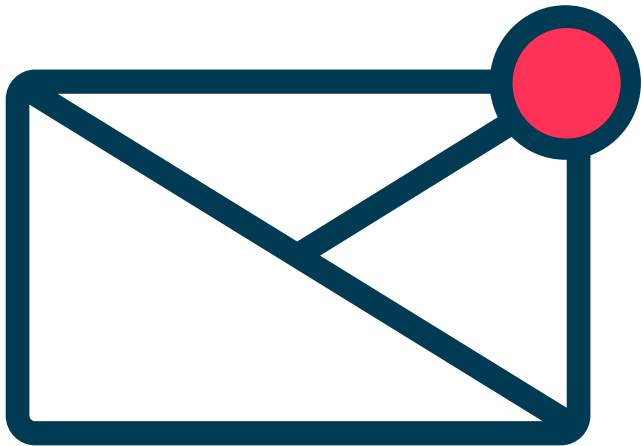

Instead of logging in several times to see post, you can change between your personal inbox and other inboxes to which you have access with just a few clicks. Maybe you are the treasurer of an association or have your own business. In the app, you can read, reply to and forward post from public authorities.

Getting your business ready for the new Digital Post

Take the test to see if you are ready for the new Digital Post
– most businesses already are.

Should we as associations do something else than the businesses?

No, there is no difference.

Are all platforms synchronized when we read, reply to or move a message.

Yes.

Digital Post keeps up to date

The Danish Agency for Digitisation has developed new Digital Post to ensure an up-to-date solution that paves the way for better communication between authorities and businesses.

The new Digital Post makes it easier for businesses to handle everyday administration. For example, authorities can highlight response deadlines and allow for import of meeting notices directly into calendars.

As a new feature, businesses and associations can read Digital Post from public authorities on multiple platforms.
